

THEATRE PRODUCTIONS

The Department of Theatre sponsors an active co-curricular program, and encourages students from across the university community to participate in productions. Each year, it presents a season of faculty-directed productions: a balance of Broadway hits, new plays, and classics of the world theatre. An additional lab theatre space allows students to direct and produce their own work as well.

Participation in the program is open to any interested student and is not confined to theatre majors. Auditions for productions are held throughout the academic year.
